Almost everyone loves babies. Notable exceptions include Laurie Metcalf, Pedro S., Bill Hader, Andy Davis from Toy Story, the guys who made "VD is for Everybody," Janeane Garofalo, and John C. Reilly. These people do not like babies because they have other interests besides human babies. However, notable people who love babies include Oprah Winfrey, Jimmy Fallon, and Justin Timberlake. Notice that the people who like babies suck, while the people who don't like babies are cool. Dober-Torres' Law says that your coolness is inversely proportional to how much you like babies.
